Press release

Pristine, 30 June 2011 - Office TACSO project Kosovo, in cooperation with the Kosovar Civil Society Foundation, on June 28, 2011 has organized a workshop on "Civil society involvement in the drafting of legislation" which was held in the Cultural and Information Centre of the EU.

Representatives from BSPK in this workshop were Shukrije Rexhepi and Dafina Mehaj.

The objective of this workshop was the publication of study "We grow together," the by authors Taulant Hoxha (KCSE), Faith Kajtazi (Government of Kosovo) and Shqipe Pantina,

The study "We grow together" was made during April / June 2011. The research was based on interviews of representatives of relevant institutions and civil society representatives

The purpose of this research was the importance and providing a clear involvement of civil society in the making of laws, regulations and other public documents in Kosovo, or Kosovo in the legislative cycle, how much space is given to civil society organizations involved in this cycle.

The report called for strengthening the voice of citizens regarding their contribution to making the best possible laws and implementable. All this, in order for Kosovo to become a country with European standards and with a developed democracy.

Not enough citizen involvement in policy-making and legislative process is always concern and will certainly offer us policy and legislation less satisfactory.
